

The IFF www-sight are produced by using OpenSpace Oy:s NetEazer-editor for producing content and controlling elements. NetEazer is an easily used with a browser working program with which the updaters put in the contents, up to date things, contact information, pictures and banners to the pages.

The WWW-pages consist of two different parts:

- The updaters account, to which one can enter with personal passwords
- The clients account= The WWW-pages which can be seen by everybody

The following elements would be found at the IFF-pages: Headlinks 6-8 horizontal on the pages, which drop menus. A calendar, with the headings of the topics and brief descriptions, dates and possible times. On the Clients side the ongoing months and two following months with their happenings can be seen. The happenings in the Calendar can be browsed back and forth. The contact information can be seen margins below and a picture can also be attached. On the middle of the page are news and topics. A short heading and date of the topics is seen. By entering the topics the topics or news content texts can be seen. To the topics one can attach dates when they are seen and dates when they go away. On the Front page and on the other pages is a so called content part, where the pages actual contents with pictures are seen.

In the middle and on the upper margin there will be a banner and on the right side there will be smaller banners under each other. The banners can be timed and on each heading zone a different banner can be attached. The banners can be pictures or flash animations and they can also be physically on another server as the pages. On the right margin a changing picture can be attached, that can be attached with the updaters user account. Search capacity of the content, a side-map and prints of all the pages are also possible.

The graphic look of the Web-page is done according to IFF:s wishes, in accordance with the elements previously described.

The NetEazers updaters account, short instructions and directions are in English in the IFF:s version. The WWW-pages can be done so that they have three different language versions.
